With good cheer and gaiety the New Year was ushered in at the Young Men's Christian association yesterday. From 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock in the evening the large and beautiful building at State and First South streets was alive with holiday festivity. Amateur sports were arranged and carried out to the satisfaction of both young and old.

There was a reception by the management, punch was served and music rendered by the orchestra. The newsboys' dinner was at 2 o'clock, and was attended by seventy-five newsboys arrayed in their very best raiment and shining with cleanliness. The dinner was a novel one. The boys marched down stairs to the buffet on perfect order, and took seats around the long table. Grace was asked by J. G. White, while all the newly-combed heads bowed in respect. Aside from giving the boys the best there is in the eating line the dinner was for the part of the woman's section was to teach them table manners.

Brief speeches were made by Golden Long, H. H. Bunyon, O. L. Cox and J. C. White, representing the association. When the dinner was over the boys gave three cheers for the ladies of the association and scattered throughout the building. A challenge basket ball game, business men against executive force, was called at 3 o'clock. The executive force won, the score being 32 to 20.

Exhibition Wrestling.
The exhibition wrestling match between Yokel and Gerarden consisted of two bouts, one five-minute and one three-minute. Yokel effected two falls in the first bout and one in the second, but they were not called. Yokel was the best man, but out of courtesy to the former assistant physical director, Elwood Brown, who refereed the match, did not call the falls. At 5 o'clock the nataratorium was given over to water polo and swimming. The association, and were free for all.

The reception was from 4:30 until 6:30, during which time the building was open for inspection. A number of ladies of the women's section served punch in the rotunda, which was appropriately decorated with holly wreaths and streamers. The association orchestra rendered a number of selections during the reception. An exhibit of work in architectural and mechanical drawing attracted the attention of a large number of the visitors. The work on exhibit was done by the high school classes during the past three months and six month sessions and consisted of a number of designs, plans for buildings and machinery. The auditorium was the center of amusement in the evening. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra and glee club, assisted by Miss Millie Williams and Master Charles Williams rendered an interesting program. Master Charles, two years old, was permitted to be conducted to the platform, sang "Waltz Me Around Again, Willie," to the amusement of all. Little Miss Williams sang a number of folk songs with a clear, sweet voice which brought forth a number of encores. Moving pictures were shown on the curtain during the intermission.

SOCIALISTS IN CONVENTION

Supreme Court Denounced for Denying Habeas Corpus to Imprisoned Miners.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 1.—Condemning the action of the supreme court of the United States in severest terms, the state convention of Socialists today called upon all members of the party to spread the meaning of the decision of the court to refusing to permit the release of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone of the Western Federation of Miners, from the Idaho prison, where they are held on the charge of complicity in the murder of former Governor Steunenberg.

The resolutions assert that the court "descended from its sworn duty and made law, denying our comrades the right of habeas corpus in direct violation of the constitution of the United States," and that "by said decision no man in the United States has any security of life and liberty."

The annual report of State Secretary Snyder shows that the number of Socialists in Oklahoma and Indian Territory has been doubled within the last year.

From the four points of the compass the advance guard of the delegates to the convention of the State Teachers' association, numbering about 300, arrived yesterday and were assigned to their quarters by those in charge of the headquarters in the Reed hotel. Each train arriving during the day carried detachments of pedagogues bound for the city. Among the more notable persons to arrive were Sarah Louise Arnold, dean of the Simmons college, Boston, and E. G. Cooley, superintendent of the public school system of Chicago. Both of these people will deliver several addresses during the meeting.

The main army of teachers will not arrive until Friday morning. The hotel has been engaged and will meet all trains at the Union depot to welcome the visitors. ## WATCHMAN SHOOT EMPLOYEE Latter Was Getting Coal to Build Fire and Was Mistaken For a Thief.

Because he refused to drop a lump of coal that he took from a car standing in the yards to build a fire for himself and fellow workmen, Harry Emerson, a Union Pacific railroad employee, was shot through the left arm by a Greek watchman named George Deems about 7:30 o'clock yesterday forenoon. The bullet was from a 38-caliber revolver and penetrated the fleshy part of the arm. Deems was arrested and locked up at the police station.

It is evident that the Greek thought that he had captured a thief and that he shot to kill. It is claimed that during the past week a Greek outfit car that has been standing in the yards has been robbed of a number of articles of value. Those who make their home in the car decide to employ a watchman in the hope of catching the thief. Deems, who is 28 years of age, was employed with the understanding that he would be responsible for all articles stolen while he was on duty. On Monday a watch and a revolver were stolen and the loss was charged up against the new watchman. It is likely that this had much to do with Deems' action in shooting Emerson.

Yesterday morning while it was yet dark Emerson was told from the freight house to the outfit car to get coal to make a fire for himself and other employees in the transfer department. It is claimed that he was in the act of carrying off the coal that Deems got sight of him and ordered him to stop. Emerson paid no attention to the command of the Greek and when he refused to halt after a second command was issued Deems fired. Had his aim been true it is more than likely that he would have shot Emerson through the heart instead of the arm.

Other employees hastened to the assistance of Emerson and after taking care of him Deems was detained until the police arrived and placed him under arrest. There is considerable feeling among the railroad men over the shooting.

AMUSEMENTS

The coming engagement of Florence Roberts and the company that she secured in New York last spring for four days, beginning on Jan. 7, at the Salt Lake theatre, and it is understood that the second play that she will offer on that occasion of the local engagement will be the beginning of a new regime in the career of the star, as in the future it will be her policy to produce plays which, while they will be of the emotional order, will be devoid of the problem feature that has always characterized her offerings. "Maria Rosa," the new play, is said to be a strong dramatic tale of the whingrowers of Spain and is modern in its construction. It will be the bill for the last two days, and "The Strength of the Weak" for the first two, as well as the Wednesday matinee.

In the musical comedy success, "The Little Duchess," to be seen at the Salt Lake theatre for three nights and a matinee, beginning tomorrow, theatre-goers are to be given a production that has already made a hit here, with Anna Held, and at the same time will greet a new star to this city, though a prime favorite elsewhere. The central figure of this attraction is Countess Olga von Hatzfeldt, who has already made herself a strong favorite in nearly every other city of consequence in the east or west, with the exception of Salt Lake City.

The excellent bill this week at the Orpheum was again responsible yesterday for a couple of banner houses, Charles F. Semon, "the narrow fellow," again created a whirlwind of merriment with his foolishness, while Palfrey and Hoefler in wonder of wonders, a comedy acrobatic cycling act without a single fall, go strong. The other turns are also well up to the pace set by the headliners.

"As Told in the Hills," the melodrama which has been enjoying a most prosperous engagement at the Grand, will terminate its engagement today with a matinee and evening performance.

"Nettie the Newgirl," an up-to-date melodrama, comes to the Grand tomorrow night for three nights and Saturday matinee.

"A Fight for a Fortune" was played to two large audiences yesterday at the Lyric theatre, and was much enjoyed. The usual souvenir matinee will be given today and a candy matinee on Saturday.
